Circus Here To-morrow.

As the seasons come and go, and the people depart from the circus tent, they may be heard to give expression to their amazement by saving: "Well, what won't they do next?" The duestion is invariably answered when the Wallace Show comes the next time.

"There is nothing new under the sun" may be true of material things, but it is, and never was, true of circus feats and ideas. The many acts and features with the Wallace Show this year are creating great attention, from the fact that there are so many new and truly wonderful acts offered. Among the coterie the Four Boises, Aerialists Extraordinary; the startling La Troupe Carmen; Mohomet Ben All Troute, aerobatic experts; the wonderful Sugimotos; Schaar Family, and a score of other premier acts, together

Long age it was thought that animals had reached the limit of their education, but each succeeding visit of the Great Wallace Show proves that speculation in this respect is useless, and sure to be in error. The climax of sensation in the hipporton of the control of the work of the department may have been thought to have been reached, but even here the visitor to the Wallace Show this season will not see the same old thing. The Wallace races are always good, but this year the innerent excitement will he materially increased by the work of Ray Thompson's High School Horses, which lap over a hurdle seven feet high, willocarrying a mount. Herr Becker's Performing a Animals are also marvels, and the Transvail War Elenhants are creating a furor. The modern circus mutimprove, even though to do so may seem impossible. Brighter Prospects Ahead.

Mr. Harry Kemp, special deputy grand regent of the Royal Arcanum of Virginia, has just returned to the city from a trip throughout the State in the interest of the order. Mr. Kemp says it seems that the tide in Arcanum matters is now setting the other way, and that the affairs of the insurance fraternity appear to be prospering. "There seems to be several reasons for this," he says, "while a number left the order last month, already seventy-two of those who left have been reinstated, and quite a number have sent in their names to return to the order. The men who have given a great deal of their time and attention to the fraternity from the very start, not for pay, but for very love of the fraternity itself, say that there was a necessity for a rerating and for larger income, and riter a long consideration and a careful examination of all the plans suggested, they declare that the plan andopted is the best means of providing insurance to, men of moderate means.

FLOOD EXPECTED TO RUN

Good Ground for the Belief That He Will Be Candidate for Governor.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, D. C., October 12 .-- A hstinguished Virginian in Washington to-day, discussing the plans which Richmond is making for the entertainment of President Roosevelt when he goes down there next week, said he believed the reception which would be given him would be more cordial, and more brilliantly elaborate than any which had been accorded a visitor in the history of the city. And he expressed his pleasure that this

"President Roosevelt is a Republican President," he said. "The men who will give to him such a hospituble welcome ocrats almost without exception. We are engaged in a political contest in Virginia now, the party represented by Mr. Roose-velt making a desperate effort to cap-ture the State government. The visit of the President of the United States must have some political effect. I think it is bound to be of some benefit to the Republican State ticket in Virginia, yet, this makes no difference to the Virginlans. They are going to give to the ruler of the nation such a welcome as his high position deserves, and one worthy of a generous, brave and loyal people. Nothing Virginia has dene in reent years has been more significant of the character of her people. They have met the President half way

When it was stated in this correspondence some weeks ago that Representa-tive Flood, of the Tenth District, would be a seeker after the Democratic nomine tion to the governorship in 1999, some-body took it on himself to deny the ac-curacy of the story. Nearly every Democrat seen within the past week or two expressed the opinion that Mr. Flood would become the chairman of the Democratic Congressional Committee. The publication of the fact that he wou'd accept the position if were offered him, has had the effect of creating semething of a boom for the Virginia congressman. Correspondents of Democratic papers all over the country have sent out from nere articles discuss-ing the proposition to put Mr. Flood in charge of the Democratic fight for Con-gress next year. Without exception, the suggestion has been received with approval. Some of the western papers have grown enthusiastic in discussing it, and have urged the Democrats to select the young Virginian.

Not a Sinecure.

Not a Sinecure.

The position of chairman of the congressional committee is not one to be greatly desired. Judge Griggs, of Georgia, found it something of a cemetery. His successor, Representative 'Cowherd, of Missouri, made the fight last year. He was defeated at home, while looking after the contests of Democratic representatives obroad. It is impossible to make the fight without considerable money. It is hard for the Democrats to get the money. Chairman Baboock, of the Republican

However, if Mr. Flood, as chalrman of the congressional committee, should make a fight which would result in giving the Democrats control of the Sixtleth Congress, he would be one of the most prominent men in the party in Congress, and in a position of great influence. He would be a national figure. So that, while the position of congressional chairman is not one to be wholly desired, it has possibilities. Mr. Flood will, in all probability, be given an opportunity to has possibilities. Mr. Flood will, in all probability, be given an opportunity to discover them. There is hardly a Democrat in Congress who is so well qualified for the position.

Attempts to Enter Residence and is Probably Fatally Wounded.

An old negro named Wash Bell was shot and very probably fatally wounded by Mr. H. S. Howell early yesterday morning. The negro, who was formerly an inmate of the City Almshouse, loft Richmond a day or so ago and went to Hanover county. He was then demented, and was just recovering from injuries inflicted by a savage dog on Canal Street some time ago.

The negro reached Ellerson, in Hanover county, about eight miles from Richmond, and there attempted to enter the residence of Mr. H. S. Howell. He was warned several times, but persisted in his attempt to make his way into the Ritchen. While trying to force his way in Mr. Howell picked up a shotgun and fired upon him. The whole load entered at short range and lodged in his face. The affair happened at 5 o'clock in the morning, and the man was not attended by a physician until 3 o'clock in the afternoon. His wounds were then dressed, and the demented negro was brought back to Richmond and taken to the Almshouse. He is lying there in a serious condition, and will probably die.
